

The Shadow of Hope

It starts with a daze As the hours pass by A glow in the eyes Like the glimmer of a fire fly

The heart stops to beat Then it drums just as fast Everything that was built collapsed As the moment ceased to last

The heart was frozen solid As the body chased the soul The path broke off as it split two ways The body hollowed out, lifeless as a ghoul

Misery came about and swept away love Strength was killed as the body hid in the ice cold cave

There was no escape the stage was dark A worry which only the soul could brave

The body looked all over but was unable to find Without the soul's light the body was blind Finally, it was found, its arms open to embrace The body reached out with it's withered face

The heartbeat began to climb the stairs As the pain in it's heart slowly disappears And the body finally realised it's way to cope Was following it's own shadow of hope
